

HOOD RIVER SUN.

HOOD RIVER, OR., NOV. 9, 1899.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Judge Kint was a visitor to The Dalles last Thursday.

W. R. Winans was a Dalles city visitor last press day.

E. E. Savage is again on the streets after a short illness.

P. S. Davidson made a business trip to the metropolis last press day.

G. T. Prather was doing business in the city of The Dalles on Tuesday.

Mrs. L. Clark returned on Saturday from a trip to Moro and The Dalles.

Mrs. A. J. Graham and Miss Graham were Portland visitors on Saturday last.

Frank Davenport was doing business in the big city down the Columbia last Saturday.

C. H. Luther, J. J. and D. M. Gibbons made a business trip to The Dalles on Thursday last.

Frank Ellison came up from Portland on Tuesday to attend the funeral of his sister, Mr. C. A. Bell.

H. H. Tomlinson, of Mt. Hood, is quite dangerously ill with erysipelas which involves his entire head.

J. O. Eastman's two sons, Roy and Archie, aged 12 and 8 years respectively, are quite low with typhoid fever.

W. E. Sherrill made a trip out to Chenoweth, Wash., last Thursday and purchased fifty thousand shingles.

S. J. LaFrance made a business trip to Portland on the evening train Sunday, and returned Tuesday evening.

Dr. J. A. Geisendorfer, of The Dalles, was in Hood River on the 5th instant as consulting physician in the case of Mrs. C. A. Bell.

Mrs. Chas. Walter, of Chenoweth, is convalescent from an attack of pneumonia, at the home of her parents, in Underwood.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the officiating pastor, Rev. J. L. Hershner, on Monday, Nov. 6, 1899, Mr. Pew Robbins and Miss Maggie McCriston.

A large amount of wood is being shipped from Hood River these days and many two-horse and four-horse teams are busily engaged in getting it to the railroad.

Miss Tresa R. Stampfer, a trained nurse from St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, who cared for Mrs. C. A. Bell during her illness, is spending a few days in the valley.

Seneca Phelps, of The Dalles, was shaking hands with his many friends in Hood River last Saturday, having come down on the morning boat and returned on the evening train.

Mr. Eggert was up from Portland this week, and while out to his summer residence he combined business with pleasure by trading 40 acres of land for 40 acres belonging to Mr. Pierce Cox.

Hood River's popular and efficient tonsorial artists, Messrs. Evans & Russell, have removed to their new quarters on Second Street. The new parlors are roomy, have splendid light and are in every respect pleasant and commodious.

Attorney Henderson is somewhat of a pedestrian himself and delights in long rambles through the valleys and over mountains. On Sunday, by way of a little exercise, he took a twelve-mile tramp in Washington up the White Salmon.

And still the sidewalk improvements continue. This time it is a fine plank walk extending from the new brick building along the block and connecting with the walk fronting the store of S. J. LaFrance. The Srs would have had no possible objection had the walk been extended right up to this office.

Whether it is because of his fair dealing, prompt and courteous attention, or his advertising in the Sun, we know not, (possibly all these reasons combined), but it is nevertheless a fact that Clyde T. Bonney is doing a land office business these days. His store is a beehive of industry and his meat trade is certainly extensive.

The pastor of the United Brethren Church, Rev. H. K. Benson, will preach at 11 A. M. The theme for the day will be "Christians are a Conspicuous People." The Sunday School will meet at 10 A. M. The Y. P. S. C. E. meeting will be held by Miss Nanna Gerking at 7 P. M. You are invited to be present at these services.

In a recent issue of the Srs there appeared in the correspondence from White Salmon, an item stating that Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson had joined the Mormon church. The parties named refute the statement and desire to make this public correction of the same. This we are glad to do. We are informed that the names should have read Mr. and Mrs. Larson.

Hon. W. H. Whipple, county assessor of this (Wasco) county, writes us as follows: "I had one glimpse of the Srs a few days ago, and in these times when gross darkness is trying to cover the nation with blighting effects the more sun we have the less darkness. Inclosed you will find my check for $1.50, that its light may shine in my office, and may it ever shine as a beacon of honor and to the confusion and dispersion of darkness."

Regular services will be held in the M. E. Church next Sunday. In the morning the services will be conducted by Rev. J. H. Peck and at night by the pastor, Rev. F. R. Spaulding. Sunday School at 10 A. M. and preaching at 11 o'clock. Preaching at night commences at 7:30, preceded by the Epworth League meeting at 6:45. A cordial and earnest invitation is extended to all to attend these services and also the midweek prayer meetings on Thursday nights.

The following was written by Eva, the 11-year-old sister of Mrs. C. A. Bell: "My dearest sister has gone from us and never shall return. She lies out in Idlewild cemetery tonight under the deep, dark ground, and I hope she will meet my dear father in Heaven and walk in the Heavens above with him. She will soon be flying in the sky and see every move I make and every step I take. She is lying beside my father tonight, cold in death, resting quiet and happy."

Judge Henderson is at work on a map of Hood River and adjoining country which, when completed will be quite a valuable piece of property. The map takes in about seven miles square and the different sections are drawn in indelible and various colored paints. Each piece of property shown on the map will have the owner's name thereon together with other data which will make it of almost inestimable value as a work of reference. Mr. Henderson is putting a great deal of careful labor on this map and he will undoubtedly find it of great service in his business in the days to come.

The monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the United Brethren Church was held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hartley, President E. E. Fix presided. About seventy persons were present and ten new members were received. After hearing the written reports of the various committees, the evening was given over to a social time. A very pleasing variety of games, conundrums, vocal and instrumental music, social conversation and refreshments entertained the company in a very enjoyable manner. Before leaving, the company sang a parting song and gave a Chautauqua salute in honor of the host and hostess.

We are indebted to Mr. E. W. Winans who furnished us with the following item of interest. He says: "While wandering in the woods recently we were astonished at seeing a channel cut into the earth by the plunge of some ponderous body. Looking up to discover the cause; supposing a section of some dead tree had broken off and by force of gravitation had penetrated the surface of the earth, we were disappointed and were about to conclude a meteor had descended there. On further investigation we found that the boughs of some willows broken at an angle of about 45 degrees above the object in the earth. Having a shovel at hand we dug into the earth and at a depth of two feet or more discovered a 100-pound boulder that had been belched forth from the throat of a "Cyclope" 550 yards distant. (Cyclope is a technical term for a horizontal blast.) This boulder had come from the railroad where grading is being done and at the distance stated above.

A husking bee was given at the home of Mrs. Erwin last Saturday evening, it being the 40th anniversary of her birthday. Everybody spent an enjoyable time husking the large ears, of course always trying to find a red ear, which gave them the right to crown or be crowned. After the husking was over the time was spent in pulling taffy, eating popcorn, and in social conversation. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Watson, Dr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, Dr. and Mrs. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. Postevin, Mrs. Graham, senior, Mrs. Spaulding, Mrs. M. E. Shute, Mr. and Mrs. Blagg, the Misses Clara Erwin, Gertrude Erwin, Anna Smith, Lillian Shute, Carrie Shute, Florence Hall, Della Belling, Miss White, Miss Elton; Messrs. A. J. Graham, Will Davidson, Wm. Graham, Chester Shute, Chas. Shute, Chas. Postevin, Frank Ellison and Roland Spaulding. All declared themselves as having spent a pleasant evening, and separated after wishing the hostess another forty more such anniversaries.

Danger! Phelps Creek is contaminated with the germs of typhoid fever. People living along the creek should not use its water for household purposes without first boiling it.

News of the Week Gathered by Our Local Writers.

Belmont Breezes.

W. A. Isenberg has secured a good position on the Ainsworth dock at Portland.

The corn husks are quite thick in this neighborhood this year. Back in Kentucky where the writer formerly lived that was considered a sign of a hard winter.

The volume of business doing these boom days by the Hood River Trading Co., has proven too much for their secretary, Judge Savage, and he is confined to his bed at his home here by an attack of nervous prostration.

Miss Bess Isenberg has been employed by the directors of the Hood River schools to teach the intermediate department vacated by Miss Graham, and commenced her work Monday. Miss Isenberg is a number one teacher and holds a first grade certificate. Hood River is to be congratulated on securing her services.

Two of our prominent citizens, while chasing the boys on Halloween, met near Judge Savage's corner and each mistaking the other for one of the marauders, commenced a scrap which promised to be quite lively for a few minutes, but by mutual explanations their wrath was appeased and they joined forces in their chase after the boys.

G. Y. F.

J. W. Sims, of this city, was doing business in the metropolis last Friday.

Cascade Lox Explosions.

Will Washburn is visiting the Locks. T. M. B. Chastain spent Saturday in Hood River.

A. E. Trask spent the fore part of the week in Portland.

Dr. Schrader has moved into his new residence in Norway town.

The weather, like one Oregon damsel I know, is quite changeable.

Mrs. R. G. Connor is organizing a Woodmen's Circle in the Locks.

Joe Jones returned home last Wednesday after an absence of several months.

Halloween is past and the denizens of this locality can rest in peace for another twelve months.

Lincoln Weaver and family have moved into the house formerly occupied by Dr. Schroeder.

The rumbling of the Government "locomotive" reminds one of the good old days of '94 and '95.

The K. of P.'s of Cascade Locks gave a banquet at Rodgers last Thursday to the members and visiting brothers.

The inland made a through trip from Portland to The Dalles last Thursday, passing the Lox without a mishap.

C. E. Miller, a resident of Waiteburg, Wash., but formerly of this place, is visiting old friends around these diggings.

The O. R. & N. Co. has about twenty-five men employed in the construction of the new bridge over Herifan creek. Also a couple of work trains.

East Side Snapshots.

(Pine Grove.)

Mr. Engles, of Belmont, has been employed on this side of the river for the past two weeks.

Grandma Feak has not been very well for some time but everybody hopes she will be up again soon.

Mrs. Mason has been quite sick for some time but is now feeling better and will likely soon be out again.

Mrs. Davis, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Feak, and other relatives, started yesterday for home in far away Maine.

W. G. Clellen, who has been employed on the Columbia Southern R. R. for the past two years, now has charge of the bridge gang on that road. We are glad to note the promotion of Mr. C. to a position he is thoroughly competent of filling.

The meeting held Saturday evening by the Columbia Literary Society for the purpose of devising ways and means for building a hall did not meet with sufficient encouragement, and the project will be abandoned for the present. It was intended to build the hall at some point as nearly central to the Pine Grove and O'Dell districts as possible, thereby accommodating both districts. The project should have been given more encouragement.

Mrs. C. M. Wolford gave a party on Halloween evening in honor of the Misses Wolford's and Miss Lautenback. Many young people were present and enjoyed a very pleasant time, separating at the midnight hour.

J. R. Warner had quite a runaway accident last week. He drove his fine team up in front of Belding & Morse's store, hitched them and went into the store, coming out again just as the horses took fright. They broke loose, turned and started on a bee line for home. Soon coming in contact with a tree they turned the buggy over, broke the tongue all to smithereens and freeing themselves from the vehicle were soon rushing with lightning speed down the road toward home. A lucky runaway as no one was hurt in the accident.
